

Kankakee NURSERY CO.

A Family-Owned Grower of Premium Illinois Nursery Stock

2023 WHOLESALE CATALOG

Dear Friends,

I'd like to welcome you to the 2023 Kankakee Nursery catalog by speaking on a topic you are likely sick of talking and hearing about (really enticing introduction, I know). Of course, I'm talking about...

Labor.

Labor, labor, labor, labor, labor. Every business owner in America has been tossing that word around very frequently of late, but especially us nursery and landscape professionals. I'm not providing any earth-shattering news when I share with you that we've had our own struggles finding enough people to run our nursery at premium efficiency.

But I personally believe the more the word "labor" and its challenges are brought up casually in conversation, the faster we can lose sight of the PEOPLE that comprise that word: the people that have been the backbones of both our individual businesses and the green industry as a whole for a very long time.

Here at Kankakee, names from Andrade to Zarate and many more in between have dedicated multiple years and even multiple decades of their working lives to help the nursery succeed. Along with their families, they took long journeys to Illinois from places like Yuriria and Casacuarán in central México and La Grulla and McAllen, Texas near the Rio Grande. Many of the people listed under 20, 30 or 40+ years on page 12 of this catalog were literally teenagers on their first day on the job. The Kankakee Nursery Company would not exist today if they had not 1) Made the daunting choice to trek to unfamiliar territory in Kankakee, IL and 2) Make it their permanent home.

I could use this space to list off all the new and exciting things we're doing at Kankakee (of which there are many!), but you will see those for yourself in the following pages. Growing and selling plants, while very challenging, is relatively easy when you compare it to trying to find a new generation of lifelong coworkers, family members and friends.

So yes, we all have a major challenge ahead of us when it comes to attracting and maintaining a reliable workforce (add in a potential recession, to boot). Kankakee Nursery, for one, will not let trying to solve these challenges allow us to lose our appreciation for those that paved the way up to this point.

So, here's to the PEOPLE that got YOU to the point you are today. And here's to a great 2023.

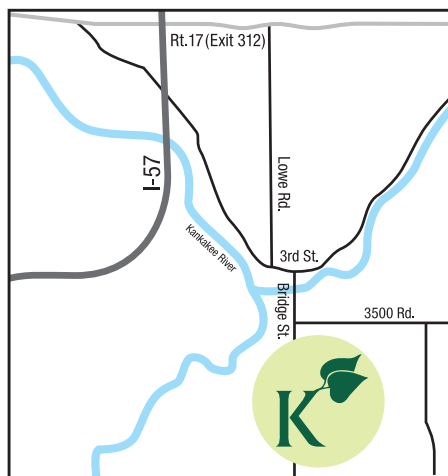

I hope you allow our work family to be a small contributor to the success of yours.

Thankfully,

Pete Worth
Sales & Marketing Manager

and dedicated employees!*

Growing the Modern & New

Experience the Root Pouch difference!

Great trees start with great root systems. We firmly believe the superior thermal and moisture control of the Root Pouch make it the best fabric pot on the market for generating healthy, fibrous root systems.

PLASTIC CONTAINER VS. ROOT POUCH TEST 2017-2019

Traditional Plastic Pot

Grown in Fabric Root Pouch

But we know you need a lot more than just great roots when buying trees. Here are a few of the other benefits Kankakee Nursery Root Pouch trees provide:

- Retail ready, perfect size for a homeowner
- Flat bottoms hold up in a wholesale yard
- Easy-to-plant with 1-2 people, critical in this labor market
- Constantly expanding selection with a native focus

Same Great Kankakee Quality!

Kankakee Nursery: A Proud Partner of the Morton Arboretum & The Chicago Region Trees Initiative.

CRTI is a partnership for coordinated action to improve the health, diversity, and equitable distribution of trees to benefit people and communities in the Chicago region.

"The innovative grow bags yield trees with good vigor and root growth. They work well for community tree plantings as they are small enough to be planted by volunteers, yet large enough to have a substantial presence once planted."

– Trinity Pierce, Stewardship Manager, Chicago Region Trees Initiative

... And the Tried and True!

B&B field production has been ramping up at Kankakee too!

We've set our sights on perfecting our planting, pruning, and digging practices to be your #1 source for 2-4" B&B shade and ornamental trees.

"We love the #15 container program at Kankakee because we do most of our planting with volunteers and two people can very easily pick up, transport and plant this stock with nothing more than hand tools. They have been increasing the numbers of trees available and putting out a great variety of hardy, urban tolerant trees that are large enough to comply with most city ordinances. We are also a big fan of the root systems produced by the Root Pouch grow bag! They are dense enough to hold together throughout the transportation and planting process and have tons of fine roots ready to do their thing."

Kankakee Nursery continues to strive to be the Midwest's leading producer of premium-grade, homegrown arborvitae!

If you're like everyone else in the world, you've probably had a tough time finding a consistent supply of arborvitae to meet customer demand. Here at Kankakee Nursery, our long-term goal is to completely control our arborvitae production from start to finish in order to keep up with demand as best as we can. Here's a snapshot of how we do it:

STEP 1

Prune select cuttings off existing plants in summer

STEP 2

Grow the cuttings in the greenhouse through winter to establish root structure

STEP 3

Once roots are established, transplant to a 1-gallon container

STEP 4

Grow them in the container for 1.5 years, then move to the field
